

SENATE PASSES BILL OVER WILSON'S VETO

WAR FINANCE MEASURE REPASSED BY UPPER HOUSE IN RAPID FORM

UNEMPLOYMENT NEW PROBLEM FOR CONGRESS

Government Officials View With Concern Grave Trouble.

BUSINESS SOUND

Percentage Of Idleness Growing Throughout Industrial Centers.

Washington, Jan. 3.—A new problem of a jobless army confronts the government today at the beginning of the new year.

Officials did not conceal their grave concern over the probability that other millions may join the ranks of the unemployed through the forces now at work in the process of readjustment to a peace time basis.

Price cuts and slumps in production with lowered demand for manufactured product and the influx of heavier shipments from abroad, have caused wholesale dropping of employees in the main factory and production centers of the United States.

Most disturbing in the entire unemployment situation, as it was viewed today by Governor Harding and his associates, in the federal reserve board, the controlling power of the bank system, are the wage cuts ranging from 20 to 25 per cent which have accompanied the shrinkage in demand for goods and decline in export trade.

Governor Harding authorized today a review of the labor situation in connection with closely related facts bearing upon the general industrial conditions that now prevail. While the general business situation is pronounced excellent, with very favorable indications for future development along sound lines, Governor Harding's board expressed a degree of concern over latest figures showing that production in some lines has been cut 40 to 75 percent.

Unemployment is most serious in the eastern districts the reserve board announced, although the percentage of idleness among workers both skilled and unskilled is growing throughout the United States. In the manufacturing districts of the eastern states the situation is especially unfavorable the board survey disclosed.

In the last month of 1920 wage cuts upon a bigger scale were made effective particularly in the textile industries.

A birdseye view of the labor difficulty now becoming nation wide, and fraught with elements of possible discontent, was offered by the reserve board in its survey showing these facts:

Conditions are serious, although less acute in the southeastern reserve banks districts, where wage cut of 20 to 25 per cent have been made. Unemployment in the St. Louis district was declared to have increased sharply in the last 30 days the lumber, furniture and clothing trades being most affected.

There is very general unemployment in the Kansas City District as a result of the curtailment of operations, chief reductions affecting the mining and petroleum industries and railroading.

Chief Executive Turns Down Bill To Aid Farmers.

PASSED BY SENATE

President Declares Measure Would Exert "No Beneficial" Results.

Washington, Jan. 3.—President Wilson today vetoed the resolution reviving the war finance corporation but immediately after hearing the message which accompanied the action the senate repassed the measure over the veto.

The senate's action was quick and followed an appeal from Senator Oscar Underwood, Democrat of Alabama, to override the president's action. Its passage was effected through a coalition of Southern Democrats and western Republicans, all representatives of the agriculturalists.

The vote in the senate was 53 to 5. The purpose of the resolution was to extend aid to farmers who are pressed by financial difficulties.

The president stated that he vetoed the measure because it would exert "natural beneficial" results and "would raise false hopes" and would interfere with the "natural and orderly processes of business and finance."

The time has come when the nation should resume its usual business methods," President Wilson declared. He said he was in sympathy with the demand for less interference with business by the government, which has been demanded recent months.

DECLARES HE KILLED NEW YORK GANGSTER

New York, Jan. 3.—Jere-miah Bohan, 35, walked into the detective bureau in Brooklyn today, surrendered and later, according to the police, confessed having killed "Monk" Eastman, ex-gangster and war veteran. Bohan, who described himself as a revenue officer, said he had been with Eastman at the "Blue Bird" Cafe on 14th street and early in the morning of the slaying, argued with the ex-gang leader.

RUNAWAY GIRL IS ARRESTED IN XENIA

Mary McKinney, 16, of near New Burlington, who led the police of several cities on a search for her whereabouts last summer, being finally taken in Dayton, where she was working as a domestic, was again a fugitive from her home Friday.

While her mother was shopping in Kingman, the girl pried the lock on a dresser drawer, took some money belonging to her father, and hired a Wilmington taxi to take her to Waynesville, coming to this city from Waynesville at 5:50 by train. She registered at the Regal Hotel under the name of Helen Burdell, but Officer David Mangan solved her change of identity and placed her under arrest. She was taken home by her mother Saturday morning. She gave her age to the officer as 18.

BALLOONISTS BELIEVED DEAD ARE SAFE IN TRADING POST NEAR HUDSON BAY

Three Airmen Wander Four Days in Snow Before Locating Safety Nearly 1,000 Miles From Starting Point In New York—On Way Back.

New York, Jan. 3.—Officers at the naval air station, Rockaway Point, N. Y., from where three balloonists started their hazardous flight into Canada three weeks ago, said today that no help or rescue parties were to be dispatched to the aid of the airmen. Such a procedure it was stated, was not considered necessary.

It was stated that the airmen who without adequate rations had managed to reach a trading post near Hudson Bay after their balloon came to a stop in the woods, were evidently quite able to care for themselves and might remain any rescue work at this late hour.

The airmen, A. L. Kloor, commanding, Lieut. Walter Hinton of No. 4 fame and Lieut. Stephen A. Farrell —are not expected to reach a telegraph station for ten days or more. They are believed today to be on their way by dog sled either to

PINCHOT MEETS WITH HARDING IN CONFERENCE

Close Associate Of President Roosevelt Confers With Senator

CRAVATH ARRIVES
Filling of Certain Cabinet Posts Discussed On Monday.

Marion, O., Jan. 3.—Warren G. Harding once expressed the conviction that one of the hardest jobs in the world was to listen with every faculty keyed to closed attention. If that is so, he has a lot of hard work before him this week. Dozens of men and women with whom he wishes to consult will come to Marion in the next few days.

Gifford Pinchot, close associate of President Roosevelt, was the first visitor to arrive today. Mr. Pinchot projects since he was chief of the forestry service and was counted on to speak authoritatively on certain phase of the work of the interior department.

Paul D. Gravath, prominent member of the New York bar, also arrived today and is believed to have placed before the president-elect a review of conditions in some of the great basic industries with their probable effort on production, employment, prices and markets. He recently has been in Europe and is thoroughly familiar with economic and trade conditions abroad. Both Pinchot and Gravath, it is believed discussed with Senator Harding the filling of certain cabinet posts.

Senator Charles Curtis of Kansas, republican whip of the senate, was consulted concerning the progress and fate of legislation at this session of congress and representative Horace Tower of Iowa, member of the house insular affairs committee, added his opinions on congressional matters.

BULLET FROM GUN PROVES FATAL TO YOUTH OF FAIRFIELD

Joseph Abel, 21, shot in a gun battle in Osborn Thursday night, by Marshall W. A. Schneider f that place died at the McClellan Hospital at 11:15 o'clock Saturday morning.

Abel was shot through the liver, the bullet lodging in the abdomen. Hospital surgeons operated as soon as possible but the nature of the wound made it impossible to save his life.

The body was taken in charge by Undertaker Ralph Neeld Saturday and at 6:45 o'clock was shipped to Rushville, Ind., for burial. Mrs. M. P. Crawford, of 1234 Broadway, Indianapolis, mother of Abel, was with him when he died, and she accompanied the body to Rushville. She told hospital attendants that the boy was born in Indianapolis and that his father was a physician, dying there five years ago.

Charles Chastain, 19, of 306 Hancock avenue, and Orlo Holden, 22, of Findlay, who were also injured by bullets from the Marshal's gun, are improving rapidly at the hospital and will recover according to hospital physicians. Holden was shot through the arm, hips and groin, while Chastain was wounded in the leg. Relatives of Chastain visited him at the hospital Saturday.

Both men are still under arrest.

GERMANY "TRAVELING THE ROAD TO RUIN"

Press Of Country Pessimistic Over Outlook For New Year—Situation Looked Upon as Dangerous To Existence of Nation.

Berlin, Jan. 3.—That Germany is "traveling the road to ruin" summarized the prophecies of the press and prominent personages for 1921. A gloomy and despairing picture of the future was painted by the new year's forecasts today. The news papers are especially pessimistic and it is impossible to find a single optimistic forecast. A year ago party organs announced with a flourish how the political parties would work for reconstruction. Ambitious programs were outlined. The socialists were especially optimistic. They announced a constructive platform which they predicted would restore the country.

Such reactionary and monarchist newspapers as the Tages Zeitung, Lokal Anzeiger and Deutsch Zeitung attacked German bolshevism and French militarism with equal vehemence.

"It is better to be dead than slaves."

2—Possibility that the French will withhold coal from Germany causing industries to close and increasing unemployment.

3—Further depreciation of the mark.

4—New "impossible" demands from the French.

5—Possible occupation of the Ruhr district (chief coal fields of Prussia) by the French.

6—Fears by the bourgeois that Prussia will become bolshevik.

7—Dangers of Russian invasion or a new Russo-Polish war on Germany's eastern frontier in the spring with the loss of Upper Silesia to the Poles.

8—Secession of Bavaria from North Germany under the influence of the French.

SUCCUMBS TO GUN WOUND ACCIDENTALLY INFILCTED BY FRIEND

New York Cotton Broker Dies Following Accident New Years.

New York, Jan. 3.—Julian Dick, cotton broker who was accidentally shot at a New Year's party by George Bruce Brooks, an intimate friend, died in a hospital early today. A blood transfusion operation wherein the blood was furnished by Brooks' brother, proved fatal.

It was not known whether any charge would be lodged against Brooks. Frank M. Dick, father of the dead cotton broker, exonerated Brooks who was at liberty.

Brooks, the cotton broker's wife, and other relatives were at Dick's bedside when he died.

Dick was shot when Brooks picked up a revolver from a shelf in Dick's apartment, accidentally pulling the trigger while examining the weapon.

Both served in the war as captains and were long friends.

WILL START NEW TRIAL FOR JUSTICE

Cleveland, Jan. 3.—I will again place William H. McGannon on trial as soon as I have familiarized myself with the evidence," said County Prosecutor Edward C. Stanton today, immediately after assuming his new position.

The date for the new trial will be set in the near future, he indicated. McGannon, chief justice of the municipal court, was indicted for second degree murder in connection with the death of Harold C. Kagy last May, following the acquittal of John W. Joyce. The jury, after 48 hours deliberation, reported a disagreement Friday afternoon and was discharged.

Both the chancery court and the trial court agreed that the chancery court's decision was correct.

"I found the chancery court very much agitated," said Sir Edward afterward, writing of the interview.

COMMITS SUICIDE.

Springfield, Jan. 3.—Charles Hale, 59, hotel keeper at Catawba, this county, while despondent over ill health, committed suicide last night by hanging himself by a rope in his rear room.

ENTERTAIN OVER HUNDRED AT 'OPEN HOUSE' SATURDAY...

The hours between two and five o'clock of New Year's afternoon were pleasantly devoted by Mr. and Mrs. Rankin R. Grieve, in entertaining one hundred and thirty-five guests, at an "open house" at their home of West Market street.

Guests arrived in groups during the entire afternoon, which was pleasantly spent with Mr. and Mrs. Grieve. The guests were received in the hall of the Grieve home by two girls, Miss Laura Johns, and Miss Helen Rutherford.

Red carnations and narcissus were combined in carrying out the colors of red and white in the decorations throughout the rooms of the Grieve home. The guests were served tea, cakes and mints. Miss Janet Ballantine poured the tea.

The attractive home of Mr. and Mrs. Grieve was effectively lighted for the occasion, the shades being pulled and light being furnished by the artificial lights in each room.

Assisting Mr. Grieve in her duties as hostess were, Mrs. Frank Scott, Mrs. Elbert Babb, Mrs. Charles Keble, Mrs. Karl Babb, and Mrs. C. L. Babb.

ENTERTAIN MEMBERS OF CHURCH NEW YEARS

About one hundred and fifty members of the First Methodist Church, and friends of Rev. and Mrs. G. A. Scott were entertained New Year's afternoon at the Scott home between the hours of three and five.

The guests were ushered into the Scott home by the Misses Louise Wood and Pauline Sutton. Assisting Mrs. Scott as hostess were the officers of the Ladies Aid Society of the church, Mrs. Charles Keble, Mrs. Smith Chambliss, Mrs. L. A. Parratt, Mrs. George Hudson, Mrs. Harry Whitmer, Mrs. John Norris, Mrs. W. H. Finley and Mrs. C. L. Babb.

The guests were entertained during the afternoon by several violin selections by Miss Irene Parrett, accompanied by Miss Theda Downing. Cocas and wafers were served by the hostess and her assistance.

CHURCH MEMBERS ENTERTAINED AT PARSONAGE

Between the hours of two and five, New Year's Day, about one hundred and sixty guests were entertained at the parsonage of the Trinity Methodist church, on East Main street, by the pastor, Rev. V. F. Brown and Mrs. Brown.

The Brown home was decorated in holiday greens, and cut flowers in profusion were used about the rooms.

The wives of the members of the official board of the church assisted Mrs. Brown in receiving the guests.

The guests included the members of the congregation and the friends of Rev. and Mrs. Brown. Light refreshments were served the guests during the afternoon by Mrs. Brown and her assistants.

WITHDRAW CASES AGAINST THE HAGER PAPER COMPANY

Following arrangements made by the Hager Straw Board and Paper Company, to prevent waste and refuse water from stagnating Massies Creek, thereby killing the fish, the State Department of Agriculture, under which the Fish and Game Department operates, has agreed to withdraw the ten separate charges filed against the company in Magistrate J. E. Jones' court here some time ago, for killing hundreds of fish in the stream by permitting poisonous waste to get into the creek.

Magistrate Jones has received the following letter from N. E. Shaw Secretary of Agriculture asking that the charges be dismissed: "I have agreed with Mr. Albert Francis Hagar president of the Hager Straw Board and Paper Company, to discontinue the actions, ten in number, that are now pending before you, brought upon the company for violation of the fish and game law relating to the pollution of streams. Mr. Hager has assured me that no more waste water will go into the streams and has informed me of the precautions that have been taken."

"Will you therefore kindly discharge the aforesaid charges?" A similar letter was also mailed to Harry D. Smith, formerly prosecuting attorney, giving notification that the state had requested that the charges be withdrawn.

It is understood that the Hager Company has spent between $6,000 and $7,000 on an improved system of screenings and appliances to prevent waste from entering the waters of the stream and has also paid the costs of the prosecution. Local fishers will be pleased to know that something has been accomplished through the interference of the state, and that Massies Creek, always a good bass stream because of cold springs and rocks, will again be fit for fishing, through the measures taken by the paper company to prevent a recurrence of the pollution.

The corner lot was originally the property of the Reformed Church and when the congregation erected a new edifice at Detroit and Church street, the building was torn down and the property sold to the local lodge of Masons. Under the name of the Masonic Temple Association the property was secured being the plans at that time to erect a temple immediately.

The property was cleaned up by local civic organization and a park installed when the Standard Oil Company secured a lease on the corner and installed the first filling station in the city there. That company has since held the lease and according to local Masons, it is found that the lodge could realize more on the property by selling than by leasing the property, as definite plans for a temple have not yet been decided upon.

The property has been held by the Masonic Temple Association for about eight or ten years and for the last three or four years has been occupied by the Standard Oil Company. The latter company has kept the consideration quiet.

While plans of the company for the site have not been decided, it is believed that it will continue to operate a filling station on the property and it is possible that a handsome station may be erected on the property.

The corner lot is one of the best business locations in the city, and it is understood that the company will have an attractive figure for the location.

FIRST NEW YEAR'S BABY ARRIVES

Mr. and Mrs. William Vincent of the Flynn farm on the Valley road are announcing the birth of a son, Lew Talbert, born at three minutes after 12 on Friday night. This is probably the first baby arriving in the new year in the entire county.

DO YOU CATCH COLD EASILY?

Your Vitality Is Low—Resistance Weak

YOU NEED PEPTO-MANGAN

Rich, Red Blood Will Strengthen You and Put You on Your Feet—Able to Resist Colds

Your system normally healthy should never catch cold. Your body is adjusted to take care of sudden changes in the weather.

It is when you are run down and your vitality is low that your body cannot adjust itself. Then you take cold.

If you keep your blood in good condition, with plenty of red corpuscles, you will be strong and your body will easily adjust itself to sudden changes. You will throw off the cold germs that go flying into the air when someone with a cold sneezes.

Red-blooded men, women and children eat well. They have plenty of energy. They go along with a smile because they feel right.

Try Pepto-Managan, the successful tonic. It is a wonderful blood builder. Take it for awhile till you feel right.

Pepto-Managan is widely and heartily endorsed by physicians. Its medicinal properties are the same.

Sold at any drug store. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Managan—"Gude's." Ask for it by name, and be sure the full name "Gude's Pepto-Managan," is on the package.

DAME RUMOR SAYS CONTROL OF AETNA EXPLOSIVES CO. PASSES TO HERCULES

That the Aetna Explosives Co., Inc., which operates a plant at Goes Station, is now practically under the control of the Hercules Powder Company, is a rumor that is afloat locally.

It is understood on reliable sources that the Hercules Company has succeeded in getting a controlling amount of the Aetna Company stock it being ascertained that company now has in its hands, about 80 per cent of the entire common stock of the Aetna Company.

With transfer of the stock to the Hercules Company and the passing of control of the Aetna company to that company, it is expected that the Hercules Company will take over complete charge of all branches of the Aetna Explosives Co. within the next sixty days.

J. L. Almon, of this city, superintendent of the Goes Station mill, said Monday afternoon that so far nothing definite as to the future of the Company is known, even by the plant here.

The Brown home was decorated in holiday greens, and cut flowers in profusion were used about the rooms.

The wives of the members of the official board of the church assisted Mrs. Brown in receiving the guests.

The guests included the members of the congregation and the friends of Rev. and Mrs. Brown. Light refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistance.

STANDARD OIL BUYS CORNER LOT FROM THE LOCAL MASON

Through a deal consummated with representatives of the Standard Oil Company, from the Columbus branch offices, that company has purchased the property of the Masonic Temple Association at Detroit and Market street, on which it has held a lease for several years.

The corner location was originally the property of the Reformed Church and when the congregation erected a new edifice at Detroit and Church street, the building was torn down and the property sold to the local lodge of Masons. Under the name of the Masonic Temple Association the property was secured being the plans at that time to erect a temple immediately.

The property was cleaned up by local civic organization and a park installed when the Standard Oil Company secured a lease on the corner and installed the first filling station in the city there. That company has since held the lease and according to local Masons, it is expected that a definite move will be made by the new controlling company within the next sixty days.

The corner lot was originally the property of the Reformed Church and when the congregation erected a new edifice at

"UNCLE JOE."

The national House of Representatives honored itself in honoring "Uncle Joe" Cannon, who has now passed all previous records of long-term service in Congress. That, unlike Justin Smith Morrill, of Vermont, who as Senator and Representative was in public life for forty-three years, nine months and twenty-four days, the service of Joseph Gurney Cannon from the Eighteenth district of Illinois has been confined exclusively to the lower branch is not the least significant thing in the career of the octogenarian lawmaker. For, without lowering the fame or removing the laurel from any other constructive Republican statesman who has left his mark on the methods of Congress, it is to the credit of "Uncle Joe" that, though he found the House of Representatives on entering it a debating association that too often failed to function, he made it, through his support of those in control in the fateful days of 1890, an organization of closely knit committees that could direct definite action to any specific end desired by those politically in control of its destinies.

It was the endorsement by subsequent democratic Congresses of the Reed-McKinley-Cannon rules, denounced by them at first as Czarism in the Speakers' chair; that was a feather in the cap of the Republican leaders.

Through a sharp and ready and somewhat vitriolic debater, who has never hesitated at times at the personal retort, that stung if it did not wound, "Uncle Joe" has had the continuous affection of both sides of the House. If there have been men in public life who have been loved for the enemies they made, it has been the singular fortune of the member from Illinois to be loved for the enduring friendships he has made over a period of time in public life which saw the Union made secure and his country advance from the position of admitted leadership in one hemisphere to equally admitted dominance in two. In bringing this about through his unflagging interest in the development of American industries, in the promotion of American agriculture and through his support of all those things that have made the United States the wealthiest, most resourceful nation within itself on the globe, "Uncle Joe," as representing the legislative arm, might well say with all due modesty, and "A great part of this I have been."

POLITENESS PAYS.

Each day a Chicago Tribune reporter, on an assignment from his paper, pays $50 to the politest person he finds on that day's travel.

The other day this reporter called a fake telephone number. The operator, unable to locate any such number, turned the call over to Mrs. Lillian Pajeau, an information operator. The reporter told her he knew he was right, insisted that the fake number be obtained for him, threw brick bouquets at the kind of service he was getting and cussed things in general but the Telephone Company, of course, in particular. Throughout it all he was given the most courteous treatment, and when he hung up still found the operator's voice with a smile in it.

To that the reporter phoned two dozen other numbers, finding many courteous people but none who equaled in patience and good temper the telephone operator. As a result the $50 check of the Chicago Tribune went to Mrs. Pajeau that day for her politeness.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY.

From Eastport, Maine, to Westport, Washington, marks the territorial extent of the Bell Telephone lines as they cross mountain and plain, river and lake, connecting up every important center and practically every smaller community in our big country. The lines of this progressive company slip over into Canada on the north and they will be found at Brownsville, Texas, and at Key West, Florida, where the frost king seldom, if ever holds sway.

To finance such an undertaking must require more than ordinary mentality. To keep so vast a system immediately responsive to public demands made upon it demands skilled men and women in every department.

The telephone business of today is but little related to such service twenty years ago. One needs but glance on the map showing the net work of Bell lines reaching into every nook and corner of the country to be convinced of this. The upkeep must be a huge load; the depreciation must be an important factor. All these items must be taken into consideration in any attempt at effective organization.

The Bell Telephone Company and its allied concerns are today the greatest single force in the life of the nation, and its successful operation is the concern of all.—The Daily Register-Leader, Marietta.

"THE LAND OF TOMORROW."

Willard Price in the Christian Herald. It has been necessary to beware of the Mexican or Central American who promised to do something for you "tomorrow." For that has merely meant some time in the future. Be cause of this peculiar point of view, Spanish America has been humorously dubbed "The Land of Tomorrow." It has been the land of procrastination; the land of "poco tiempo" or "wait a while."

An old saying runs, "Six days shalt thou do nothing and on the seventh go to a bull fight." That has been the ideal. The Spanish-American has not always been able to attain it; but he has made a conscientious effort.

UNCLE SAM'S NEW YEAR RESOLUTION

may have thought that he has a monopoly on the "grandmother's funeral" excuse. But not so. The excuse is as common as cactus all the way from the Rio Grande to the Panama Canal. When ever an employee wishes to shirk his job, he arranges a demise.

"I have a clerk who has lost a hundred grandmothers," an American mine manager said. "Do you wonder that Diaz allowed the Mormons to practice their religion in Mexico?"

Certain mines tried the scheme of offering an extra bonus to any man who would report for every working day of a month. The plan met with but indifferent success. "What is the use of so much money," seemed to be the philosophy of the workmen, "if we have no time to drink it up?"

LAST TRANSACTION OF PAVING WORK FOR OLD YEAR COMPLETED

The last important transaction of the street improvement program of 1919 and 1920 was completed Friday at a special meeting of the city commission.

The meeting was called for the purpose of cancelling $15,000 worth of paving bonds. The original issue of bonds made before the work was awarded was $200,000, estimated to take care of the costs during construction, then $80,000 worth more were issued about 60 days before completion to pay the final estimates.

As it takes 60 days to issue bonds and due to the fact that any surplus above the amount actually required can be easily cancelled, the second issue was made amply large and by the exercises of economy the costs were held down to $65,000, making it possible to cancel $15,000 worth of the issue.

The bids for street paving were first called for in August 1918

and as all bids were above the City Manager's estimate and because there was only one bid on asphalt pavement and therefore no competition, the city commissioners rejected all bids and readvertised. A month later bids were again received and as all contractors desiring to bid were assured that the work would be awarded to the lowest and best bidder there were six bids on asphalt.

Andrews Co., on Trinidad Asphalt at first letting $214,374.00 Andrews Co., on Trinidad Asphalt at second letting 209,985.00 Saving on account of advertising ..... 4,389.00 Andrews Co., on Oil Asphalt at first letting ..... 209,300.00 J. E. Conley on Oil Asphalt at second letting ..... 192,230.00 Saving on account of competition ..... 17,070.00

Total Saving ..... $ 22,144.00

Little was said of this saving at the time, according to Mr. Riddle, because it remained to be proven that the work would be as satisfactorily done as if it were to have cost $22,144 more. With the work now in, it is shown that the paving has been handled satisfactorily.

City Manager Riddle's estimate at the second letting on the types of pavement selected and for the actual construction cost to be performed under the regular contract aggregated $1,861,477.10, and Conley's bid the lowest of the three with $4,000

The bid of Conley was one of three separate bids, that were within $4,000 of each other, according to City Manager Riddle and any one of the bids was equally as good or better in every respect than the one and only bid received at the first letting. Considering the Oil and Trinidad Asphalts on the same basis the saving was a follow:

Andrews Co., at the first letting ..... $ 214,374.00 Conley at the second letting ..... 192,230.00

Total Saving ..... $ 22,144.00

Little was said of this saving at the time, according to Mr. Riddle, because it remained to be proven that the work would be as satisfactorily done as if it were to have cost $22,144 more. With the work now in, it is shown that the paving has been handled satisfactorily.

THE KNOCKER.

You buy a car you think is great, a bus that's strictly up to date. Your breast is filled with wholesome pride when you go forth to take a ride, for you have saved a long, long while to buy a boat that's quite in style. You feel, while gliding down the street, that life is sumptuous and sweet; you're bubbling o'er with genial mirth, good will to men and peace on earth. And when you park your car downtown, up comes J. Pumpernickel-Brown. "Great Scott!" he cries; "Jehosaphat! I wouldn't own a van like that. Oh, why in blitzen did you blow for such a cheese the hard-earned dough? Of all the lemons that's the worst; among the gold bricks it is first. Its working parts will break like glass, it is a swine for oil and gas." And so this omnipresent jay has knocked the pleasure from your day, and pulled a cloud across your sun, and spoiled your little slice of fun. In every street of every town there is a Pumpernickel-Brown who can't be satisfied or glad unless he makes another sad. His cheap remarks should not destroy the cheerful neighbor's honest joy, but joy's a thing that soon looks sick when some one hits it with a brick. And so this Pumpernickel-Brown distributes sorrow up and down.

Quaker Minister Is Grateful to Tanlac

Rev. Parker Moon, Carthage, Missouri.

Nearly everybody in Southwest Missouri either knows or has heard of the Rev. Parker Moon who for a full half century has devoted his life and talents to Sunday School and organization work for the society of Friends or Quakers. He resides at 628 Howard avenue, Carthage, Mo.

"Uncle Parker," as he is more familiarly known, came from fine old rugged Quaker stock, and there is not a better known or more highly respected citizen in that part of the state. In referring to his remarkable restoration to health by Tanlac, he said:

"About five years ago I suffered a general breakdown. My principal trouble was nervous indigestion. My appetite was very poor and my food seldom agreed with me, and I had to live on a very restricted diet. I suffered a great deal from headaches and dizzy spells; I had severe pains across the small of my back and was badly constipated most of the time. In fact, I was so weak and rundown I was not able to attend to my duties.

"This condition made me very nervous and I could not sleep at night. Frequently I would lie awake most all night and was in that condition more or less for five years. My physician said he could not do anything for me and suggested a change of climate. I then moved to Texas and went back and forth three times but Smith

OPPORTUNITY FOR YOUNG MEN TO TAKE WEST POINT EXAM.

The following letter, relative to appointments at West Point, has been sent out by S. D. Fess, Congressman from the seventh Ohio District. The letter follows:

Washington, D. C. Dec. 29, 1920.
I am entitled to appoint to the Military Academy at West Point a candidate and alternates to take the entrance examination to this institution. In order to make these appointments absolutely on merit I beg to announce that I have arranged to conduct an examination on January 15, 1921, at Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio, 9 a.m.

Any young man of good moral character, resident in the seventh congressional district (Champaign, Clark, Clinton, Fayette, Greene, Logan, Madison, Union and Warren counties) is eligible to take the examination without expenses except car fare to and from Yellow Springs and lodgings in Yellow Springs in case he must arrive there the day before to be there by 9 a.m. the day of the examination.

The age requirement for the examinations given by the institution is that the candidate must, at the time of his examination for admission, be not under seventeen nor over twenty-two years. A recent act of Congress provides that "during the calendar years 1919-1920, any appointee to the Military Academy who has served honorably and faithfully not less than one year in the armed forces of the United States or allied armies in the late war with Germany, and who possesses the other qualifications required by law, may be admitted between the ages of 17 and 24 years."

Note—Candidates are eligible for admission from the day they are 17 (or 19 if from the Regular Army or the National Guard) until the day they become 22 years of age, on which latter day they are not eligible, unless they fall under the recent act of Congress just referred to. All candidates for any appointment must conform to the age requirements for admission to this institution.

The subjects for examination are as follows:—Algebra, Geometry and Grammer, for which three hours are allowed, and after an intermission of one hour, Geography, U. S. History and Arithmetic, for which three hours are allowed.

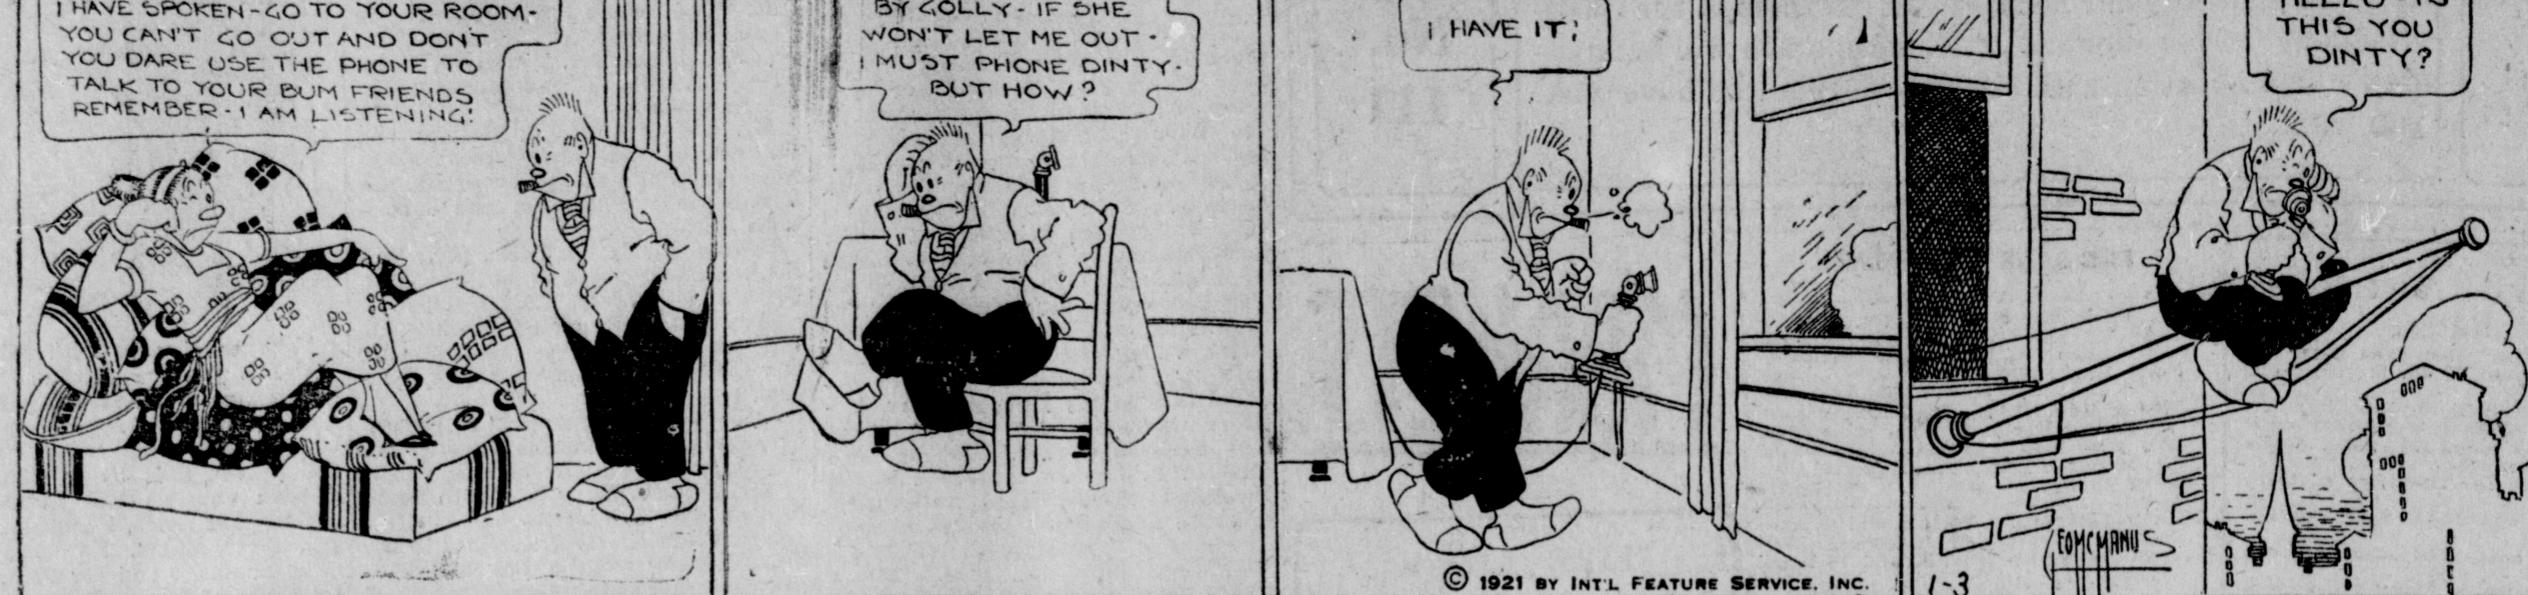

In addition to the principal, there will be appointed three alternates. Upon receipt of the report from the examination I will appoint the candidate standing highest in the examination as principal; the next highest will be appointed first alternate; the next second alternate and the next third alternate.

Each candidate shall present as a part of his examination a report of a strict physical examination conducted by a reliable physician. This is important as the Military Academy will not except any person who is not absolutely physically perfect.

The appointments will be made strictly in accordance with above specifications. The men so appointed will then be eligible to take the mental examination for admission to the academy, and arrangements for this examination will be made by the proper officials of the institution. This latter (regular) examination will be held, March 1, 1921.

Any further information desired by possible applicants will be gladly furnished upon request.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Mr. John A. Nisbet, our popular ex-county treasurer, has accepted a position in the Xenia National Bank. Mr. Nisbet has fine qualifications for the banking business and will make a valuable acquisition to the Xenia National.

Mr. George Little, who was admitted to the bar several years ago but who never actively engaged in the practice of law, has decided to devote his time and attention to that profession hereafter and will be associated with the firm bearing the name of Little and Spencer.

The Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad, the name which is a familiar one on the cars of that line will soon disappear entirely from view, the order being issued that it is to be replaced by the name "Pennsylvania Lines."

But whatever orders are as to names it is safe to say that the familiar nickname of the "Pan Handle," will cling to the road as before.

The Miami Telephone Company is preparing to build a number of lines connecting the farming communities throughout the county and before long there will be a network of these lines reaching farmers in all directions. Arrangements are being made for putting in exchanges at Osborn, Clifton and other points and a franchise was in session here.

... Chapter 54.

When Agnes left us she said she had enjoyed her visit, and complimented me highly upon my housekeeping and cooking.

After she had gone Dick and I compared notes. For the first time in months I was perfectly frank with him about expense—the cost of the dinner and so forth. I figured it was for his sister, so no need for camouflage.

"My word, but I had no idea food cost so much!" he exclaimed when I went over each item.

"You see it isn't easy to live on your salary—how necessary it is to make money!" I returned.

"I see we would either go to jail or the poorhouse if we gave many dinner parties."

"Well, we won't give dinner parties often. But I do want to feel we can have company once in a while. Did you make any money today?" It was my nightly query.

"Not a cent!"

"You are sure you tried?"

"Sure!"

"Perhaps you will tomorrow."

"Perhaps." Then: "Mr. Burns was in the office. You've heard me speak of him. He told me of a stock to buy. But I am almost afraid to risk it."

Ford THE UNIVERSAL CAR

THE FORD COUPE

THE Ford Coupe is surely the Salesman's car. Thousands of them are bought every year by firms employing traveling salesmen. Many firms buy fifty or one hundred at a time, because they know, from experience, that the Ford Coupe increases the efficiency of the salesmen at a minimum of expense.

Contractors, builders, collectors, solicitors, physicians all find the Ford Coupe the most convenient as well as the most economical among motor cars. Lowest in purchase price, lowest in operating costs, and backed by the Ford Service organization, coupled with the durability of the car itself—these furnish the reasons for the Ford popularity.

WAR FINANCE MEASURE

HOUSE IN RAPID FORMUNEMPLOYMENT
NEW PROBLEM
FOR CONGRESSGovernment Officials View
With Concern Grave
Trouble.BUSINESS SOUNDS
Percentage Of Idleness
Growing Throughout Industrial Centers.

Washington, Jan. 3.—A new problem of a jobless army confronts the government today at the beginning of the new year.

Officials did not conceal their grave concern over the probability that other millions may join the ranks of the unemployed through the forces now at work in the process of readjustment to a peace time basis. Price cuts and slumps in production with lowered demand for manufactured product and the influx of heavier shipments from abroad, have caused wholesale dropping of employees in the main factory and production centers of the United States.

Most disturbing in the entire unemployment situation, as it was viewed today by Governor Harding and his associates, in the federal reserve board, the controlling power of the bank system, are the wage cuts ranging from 20 to 25 per cent which have accompanied the shrinkage in demand for goods and decline in export trade.

Governor Harding authorized today a review of the labor situation in connection with closely related facts bearing upon the general industrial conditions that now prevail. While the general business situation is pronounced excellent with very favorable indications for future development along sound lines, Governor Harding's board expressed a degree of concern over latest figures showing that production in some lines has been cut 40 to 75 percent.

Unemployment is most serious in the eastern districts the reserve board announced, although the percentage of idleness among workers both skilled and unskilled is growing throughout the United States. In the manufacturing districts of the eastern states the situation is especially unfavorable the board survey disclosed.

In the last month of 1920 wage cuts upon a bigger scale were made effective particularly in the textile industries.

A birds-eye view of the labor difficulty now becoming nation wide, and fraught with elements of possible discontent, was offered by the reserve board in its survey showing these facts:

Condition are serious, although less acute in the southeastern reserve bank districts, where wage cut of 20 to 25 per cent have been made. Unemployment in the St. Louis district was declared to have increased sharply in the last 30 days the lumber, furniture and clothing trades being most affected.

There is very general unemployment in the Kansas City district as a result of the curtailment of operations, chief reductions affecting the mining and petroleum industries and railroading.

In New York—On Way Back.

New York, Jan. 3.—Officers at the naval air station, Rockaway Point, N. Such a procedure it was stated, was not considered necessary.

It was stated that the airmen who without adequate rations had managed to reach a trading post near Hudson Bay after their balloon came in a woods, were evidently quite able to care for themselves and might represent any rescue work at this late hour.

The airmen, A. L. Klorin, commanding, Lieut. Walter Hinton, of No. 4 fame and Lieut. Stephen A. Farrell, are not expected to reach a telephone station for ten days or more. They are believed today to be on their way by dog sled either to trin-

Close Associate Of President Roosevelt Confers With Senator

CRAVATH ARRIVES

Filling of Certain Cabinet Posts Discussed On Monday.

Marion, O., Jan. 3.—Warren G. Harding once expressed the conviction that one of the hardest jobs in the world was to listen with every faculty keyed to closed attention. If that is so, he has a lot of hard work before him this week. Dozens of men and women with whom he wishes to consult will come to Marion in the next few days.

Gifford Pinchot, close associate of President Roosevelt, was the first visitor to arrive today. Mr. Pinchot projects since he was chief of the forestry service and was counted on the speak authoritatively on certain phase of the work of the interior department.

Paul D. Cravath, prominent member of the New York bar, also arrived today and is believed to have placed before the president-elect a review of conditions in some of the great basic industries with their probable effort on production, employment, prices and markets.

The president stated that he vetoed the measure because it would exert "natural beneficial" results and "would raise false hopes" and would interfere with the "natural and orderly processes of business and finance." The time has come when "the nation should resume its usual business methods," President Wilson declared. He said he was in sympathy with the demand for less interference with business by the government, and has been demanded recent months.

DECLARES HE KILLED
NEW YORK GANGSTER

New York, Jan. 3.—Jeremiah Bohan, 35, walked into the detective bureau in Brooklyn today, surrendered and later, according to the police, confessed having killed "Monk" Eastman, ex-gangster and war veteran. Bohan, who described himself as a revenue officer, said he had been with Eastman at the "Blue Bird" Cafe on 14th street and early in the morning of the slaying, argued with the ex-gang leader.

RUNAWAY GIRL IS ARRESTED IN XENIA

Mary McKinney, 16, of near New Burlington, who led the police of several cities on a search for her whereabouts last summer, being finally taken in Dayton, where she was working as a domestic, was again a fugitive from her home Friday.

While her mother was shopping in Kingman, the girl pried the lock on a dresser drawer, took some money belonging to her father, and hired a taxi to take her to Waynesville, coming to this city from Waynesville at 5:50 by train. She registered at the Regal Hotel under the name of Helen Burdell, but Officer David Mangan solved her change of identity and placed her under arrest. She was taken home by her mother Saturday morning. She gave her age to the officer as 18.

The body was taken in charge by Undertaker Ralph Neeld Saturday and at 6:45 o'clock was shipped to Rushville, Ind., for burial. Mrs. M. P. Crawford, of 1234 Broadway, Indianapolis, mother of Abel, was with him when he died, and she accompanied the body to Rushville. She told hospital attachés that the boy was born in Indianapolis and that his father was a physician, dying there five years ago.

Charles Chastain, 19, of 306 Hancock avenue, and Orlo Holden, 22, of Findlay, who were also injured by bullets from the Marshal's gun, are improving rapidly at the hospital and will recover according to hospital physicians. Holden was shot through the arm, hips and groin, while Chastain was wounded in the leg. Relations of Chastain visited him at the hospital Saturday.

Both men are still under arrest.

GERMANY "TRAVELING
THE ROAD TO RUIN"

Press Of Country Pessimistic Over Outlook For New Year—Situation Looked Upon as Dangerous To Existence of Nation.

Berlin, Jan. 3.—That Germany is "traveling the road to ruin" summarized the phrasings of the press and prominent personages for 1921.

A gloomy and despairing picture of the future was painted by the new year's forecasts today. The newspapers are especially pessimistic and it is impossible to find a single optimistic forecast.

A year ago party organs announced with a flourish how the political parties would work for reconstruction. Ambitious programs were outlined. The socialists were especially optimistic. They announced a constructive platform which they predicted would restore the country.

Such reactionary and monarchist newspapers are the Tages Zeitung, Kulter Anzeiger and Deutsch Zeitung attacked German bolshevism and French militarism with equal vehemence.

Editorials bearing upon the outlook for 1921 print a long list of troubles which confront Germany. They enumerate the nation's chief fears as follows:

1—Increasing starvation.

2—Possibility that the French will withdraw coal from Germany causing industries to close and increasing unemployment.

3—Further depreciation of the mark.

4—New "impossible" demands from the French.

5—Possible occupation of the Ruhr district (chief coal fields of Prussia) by the French.

6—Fears by the bourgeois that Prussia will become bolshevist.

7—Dangers of Russian invasion or a new Russo-Polish war on Germany's eastern frontier in the spring with the loss of Upper Silesia to the Poles.

8—Secession of Bavaria from North Germany under the influence of the French.

Abel was shot through the liver, the bullet lodging in the abdomen. Hospital surgeons operated as soon as possible but the nature of the wound made it impossible to save his life.

The body was taken in charge by Undertaker Ralph Neeld Saturday and at 6:45 o'clock was shipped to Rushville, Ind., for burial. Mrs. M. P. Crawford, of 1234 Broadway, Indianapolis, mother of Abel, was with him when he died, and she accompanied the body to Rushville. She told hospital attachés that the boy was born in Indianapolis and that his father was a physician, dying there five years ago.

Charles Chastain, 19, of 306 Hancock avenue, and Orlo Holden, 22, of Findlay, who were also injured by bullets from the Marshal's gun, are improving rapidly at the hospital and will recover according to hospital physicians.

JANUARY CLEARANCE SALE

Sale Starts Wednesday, January 5th, and Continues Until January 22nd

It makes little difference if your winter needs are few or varied and extensive for this great savings event is making itself felt all over the store. On Apparel, Fabrics and in the Home Ware sections you will find that the sale prices are radically reduced. They are much lower, in fact, in many instances, than they were on goods of similar qualities before the war. Be on hand early though for although quantities are substantial we expect a record attendance at this climax to the back-to-rock-bottom price drive. Here are some of the excellent economics we feel sure you will want to share in:

It is understood that the Hagar Straw Board and Paper Company has spent between $6,000 and $7,000 on an improved system of screenings and appliances to prevent waste from entering the waters of the stream and has also paid the costs of the prosecution. Local fishers will be pleased to know that something has been accomplished through the interference of the state, and that Massies Creek, always a good bass stream because of its cold springs and rocks, will again be fit for fishing, through the measures taken by the paper company to prevent a recurrence of the precautions that have been taken.

The corner lot is one of the best business locations in the city, and it is understood that the company paid an attractive figure for the location.

Chief of Police Graham recovered a watch stolen from a Wilmington home by two boys, at the request of the Clinton County Sheriff Friday.

The lads, Harvey Doss, and a boy named Price, were arrested by the Clinton county authorities, but said they had left the watch they had stolen with Jerry Kersey in this city.

Chief Graham recovered the watch and returned it to authorities at Wilmington.

Mrs. Katherine Lasure, 76, of Fairfield, is in Miami Valley Hospital, Dayton, suffering from injuries sustained when she was struck by an automobile at Wayne avenue and Richard streets, Dayton, Saturday night.

Mrs. Lasure's injuries consist of a broken collar bone and bruises about the arms and shoulders. She was knocked down by an automobile said to be driven by Ulysses E. Larimore, 32 North Clinton Street, Dayton, when she attempted to cross the street in front of the car.

Her condition is not serious.

The property was cleaned up by local civic organizations and parks installed when the Standard Oil Company secured a lease on the corner and installed the first filling station in the city there. That company has since held the lease and according to local Masons, it was found that the lodge could realize more on the property by selling it than by leasing the property, as definite plans for a temple have not yet been decided upon.

The property has been held by the Masonic Temple Association for about eight or ten years and for the last three or four years has been occupied by the Standard Oil Company. The latter company has kept the consideration quiet. While plans of the company for the site have not been decided, it is believed that it will continue to operate a filling station on the property and it is possible that a handsome station may be erected on the property.

"UNCLE JOE."

The national House of Representatives honored itself in honoring "Uncle Joe" Cannon, who has now passed all previous records of long-term service in Congress. That, unlike Justin Smith Morrill, of Vermont, who as Senator and Representative was in public life for forty-three years, nine months and twenty-four days, the service of Joseph Gurney Cannon from the Eighteenth district of Illinois has been confined exclusively to the lower branch is not the least significant thing in the career of the octogenarian lawmaker. For, without lowering the fame or removing the laurel from any other constructive Republican statesman who has left his mark on the methods of Congress, it is to the credit of "Uncle Joe" that, though he found the House of Representatives on entering it a debating association that too often failed to function, he made it, through his support of those in control in the fateful days of 1890, an organization of closely knit committees that could direct definite action to any specific end desired by those politically in control of its destinies.

It was the endorsement by subsequent democratic Congresses of the Reed-McKinley-Cannon rules, denounced by them at first as Czarism in the Speakers' chair, that was a feather in the cap of the Republican leaders.

Through a sharp and ready and somewhat vitriolic debater, who has never hesitated at times at the personal retort, that stung if it did not wound, "Uncle Joe" has had the continuous affection of both sides of the House. If there have been men in public life who have been loved for the enemies they made, it has been the singular fortune of the member from Illinois to be loved for the enduring friendships he has made over a period of time in public life which saw the Union made secure and his country advance from the position of admitted leadership in one hemisphere to equally admitted dominance in two. In bringing this about through his unflagging interest in the development of American industries, in the promotion of American agriculture and through his support of all those things that have made the United States the wealthiest, most resourceful nation within itself on the globe, "Uncle Joe," as representing the legislative arm, might well say with all due modesty, and "A great part of this I have been."

POLITENESS PAYS.

Each day a Chicago Tribune reporter, on an assignment from his paper, pays $50 to the politest person he finds on that day's travel.

The other day this reporter called a fake telephone number. The operator, unable to locate any such number, turned the call over to Mrs. Lillian Pajean, an information operator. The reporter told her he knew he was right, insisted that the fake number be obtained for him, threw brick bouquets at the kind of service he was getting and cussed things in general but the Telephone Company, of course, in particular. Throughout it all he was given the most courteous treatment, and when he hung up still found the operator's voice with a smile in it.

To that the reporter phoned two dozen other numbers, finding many courteous people but none who equaled in patience and good temper the telephone operator. As a result the $50 check of the Chicago Tribune went to Mrs. Pajean that day for her politeness.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY.

From Eastport, Maine, to Westport, Washington, marks the territorial extent of the Bell Telephone lines as they cross mountain and plain, river and lake, connecting up every important center and practically every smaller community in our big country. The lines of this progressive company slip over into Canada on the north and they will be found at Brownsville, Texas, and at Key West, Florida, where the frost king seldom, if ever holds sway.

To finance such an undertaking must require more than ordinary mentality. To keep so vast a system immediately responsive to public demands made upon it demands skilled men and women in every department.

The telephone business of today is but little related to such service twenty years ago. One needs but glance on the map showing the net work of Bell lines reaching into every nook and corner of the country to be convinced of this. The upkeep must be a huge load; the depreciation must be an important factor. All these items must be taken into consideration in any attempt at effective organization.

The Bell Telephone Company and its allied concerns are today the greatest single force in the life of the nation, and its successful operation is the concern of all.—The Daily Register-Leader, Marietta.

"THE LAND OF TOMORROW."

Willard Price in the Christian Herald. It has been necessary to beware of the Mexican or Central American who promised to do something for you "tomorrow." For that has merely meant some time in the future. Be cause of this peculiar point of view, Spanish America has been humorously dubbed "The Land of Tomorrow." It has been the land of procrastination; the land of "poco tiempo" or "wait a while."

An old saying runs, "Six days shalt thou do nothing and on the seventh go to a bull fight." That has been the ideal. The Spanish-American has not always been able to attain it; but he has made a conscientious effort.

UNCLE SAM'S NEW YEAR RESOLUTION

may have thought that he has a monopoly on the "grandmother's funeral" excuse. But not so. The excuse is as common as cactus all the way from the Rio Grande to the Panama Canal. Whenever an employee wishes to shirk his job, he arranges a demise.

"I have a clerk who has lost a hundred grandmothers," an American mine manager said. "Do you wonder that Diaz allowed the Mormons to practice their religion in Mexico?"

Certain mines tried the scheme of offering an extra bonus to any man who would report for every working day of a month. The plan met with indifferent success. "What is the use of so much money," seemed to be the philosophy of the workmen, "if we have no time to drink it up?"

LAST TRANSACTION OF PAVING WORK FOR OLD YEAR COMPLETED

The last important transaction of the street improvement program of 1919 and 1920 was completed Friday at a special meeting of the city commission.

The meeting was called for the purpose of cancelling $15,000 worth of paving bonds. The original issue of bonds made before the work was awarded was $200,000, estimated to take care of the costs during construction, then $80,000 worth more were issued about 60 days before completion to pay the final estimates.

As it takes 60 days to issue bonds and due to the fact that any surplus above the amount actually required can be easily cancelled, the second issue was made amply large and by the exercises of economy the costs were held down to $85,000, making it possible to cancel $15,000 worth of the issue.

The bids for street paving were first called for in August 1918

and as all bids were above the City Managers estimate and because there was only one bid on asphalt pavement and therefore no competition, the city commissioners rejected all bids and readvertised. A month later bids were again received and as all contractors desiring to bid were assured that the work would be awarded to the lowest and best bidder there were six bids on asphalt.

The bid of Conley was one of three responsible bids, that were within $4,000 of each other, according to City Manager Riddle and any one of the bids was equally as good or better in every respect than the one and only bid received at the first letting. Considering the Oil and Trinidad Asphalts on the same basis the saving was a follow:

Andrews Co., at the first letting ..... $214,374.00
Conley at the second letting ..... 192,230.00

Total Saving ..... $ 22,144.00 Little was said of this saving at the time, according to Mr. Riddle, because it remained to be proven that the work would be as satisfactorily done as if it were to have cost $22,144 more. With the work now in, it is shown that the paving has been handled satisfactorily.

City Manager Riddle's estimate at the second letting on the types of pavement selected and for the actual construction cost to be performed under the regular contract aggregated $1,861,477.10, and Conley's bid the lowest of the three with $4,000

The bids were as follows:

THE KNOCKER.

You buy a car you think is great, a bus that's strictly up to date. Your breast is filled with wholesome pride when you go forth to take a ride, for you have saved a long, long while to buy a boat that's quite in style. You feel, while gliding down the street, that life is sumptuous and sweet; you're bubbling o'er with genial mirth, good will to men and peace on earth. And when you park your car downtown, up comes J. Pumpernickel-Brown. "Great Scott!" he cries; "Jehosophat! I wouldn't own a van like that Oh, why in blitzen did you blow for such a cheese the hard-earned dough? Of all the lemons that's the worst; among the gold bricks it is first. Its working parts will break like glass, it is a swine for oil and gas." And so this omnipresent jay has knocked the pleasure from your day, and pulled a cloud across your sun, and spoiled your little slice of fun. In every street of every town there is a Pumpernickel-Brown who can't be satisfied or glad unless he makes another sad. His cheap remarks should not destroy the cheerful neighbor's honest joy, but joy's a thing that soon looks sick when some one hits it with a brick. And so this Pumpernickel-Brown distributes sorrow up and down.

of each other bid $192,230.68. The actual final cost of the work provided for under the schedule of bids was $191,993.00 or $300 less than the bid. Other costs incidental to the total issue of all the street improvement such as storm and sanitary sewers, engineering, inspection, interest and other administrative costs made a total of $260,000 of which $191,993.00 is paving and $22,333 is sewers.

The paving work in Xenia, according to a review of the entire paving situation, was done at a cost of $25 per cent below any other paving in the vicinity as figures will show which have been obtained from cities comparable in size to Xenia.

SEA SCOUTS ARE NOW IN TRAINING

Galveston, Texas, Jan. 3—Seagoing vessels ranging from fishing smacks to huge transatlantic cargo carriers are being utilized as "training ships" for this city's troop of Sea Scouts.

The Sea Scouts were organized recently to appeal to growing youths for whom the sea possessed more of an attraction than did woodcraft and forest lore, according to Scout Master Tom Murray.

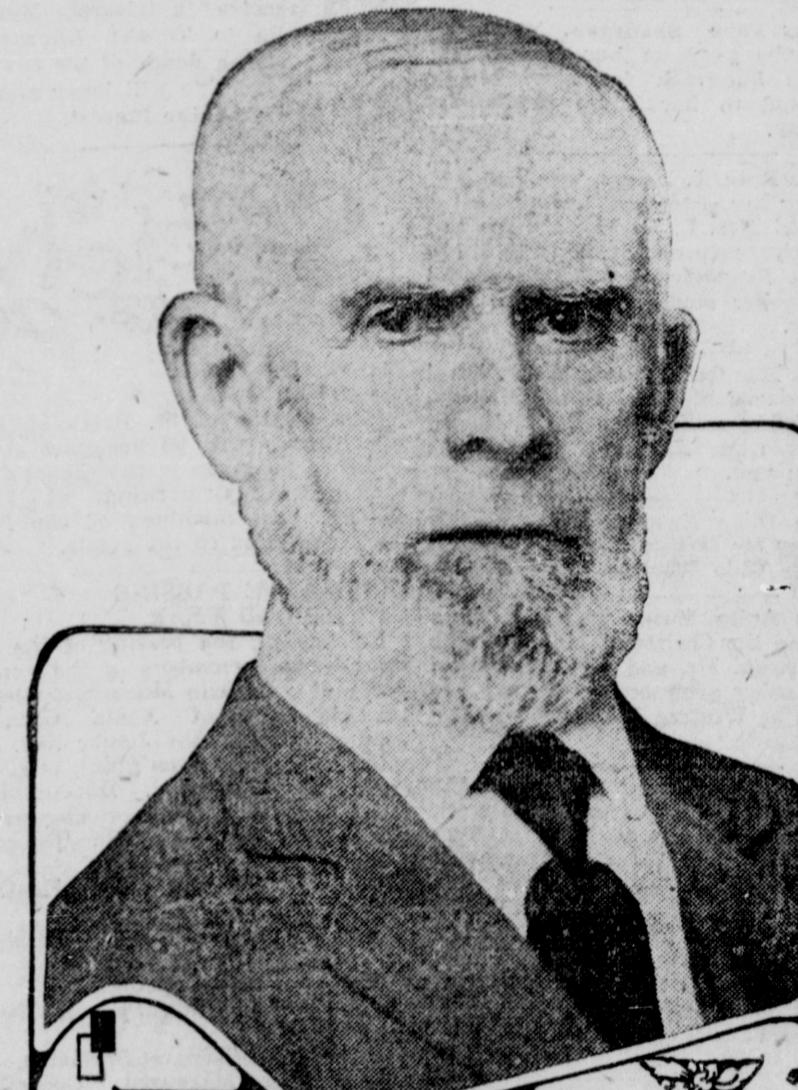

The troop, which now numbers approximately 100 bright-eyed "jack tars," regularly visits for the purpose of instruction ships lying at anchor in Galveston harbor. The process of discharging of loading cargo, the

Quaker Minister Is Grateful to Tanlac

Rev. Parker Moon, Carthage, Missouri.

Nearly everybody in Southwest Missouri either knows or has heard of the Rev. Parker Moon who for a full half century has devoted his life and talents to Sunday School and organization work for the society of Friends or Quakers. He resides at 628 Howard avenue, Carthage, Mo.

"Uncle Parker," as he is more familiarly known, came from fine old rugged Quaker stock, and there is not better known or more highly respected citizen in that part of the state. In referring to his remarkable restoration to health by Tanlac, he said:

"About five years ago I suffered a general breakdown. My principal trouble was nervous indigestion. My appetite was very poor and my food seldom agreed with me, and I had to live on a very restricted diet. I suffered a great deal from headaches and dizzy spells; I had severe pains across the small of my back and was badly constipated most of the time. In fact, I was so weak and rundown I was not able to attend to my duties."

"This condition made me very nervous and I could not sleep at night. Frequently I would lie awake most all night and was in that condition more or less for five years. My physician said he could do nothing for me and suggested a change of climate. I then moved to Texas and went back and forth three times but Smith."

OPPORTUNITY FOR YOUNG MEN TO TAKE WEST POINT EXAM.

The following letter, relative to appointments at West Point, has been sent out by S. D. Fess, Congressman from the seventh Ohio District. The letter follows:

Washington, D. C. Dec. 29, 1920.
I am entitled to appoint to the Military Academy at West Point a candidate and alternates to take the entrance examination to this institution in order to make these appointments absolutely on merit I beg to announce that I have arranged to conduct an examination on January 15, 1921, at Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio, 9 a.m.

A young man of good moral character, resident in the seventh congressional district (Champaign, Clark, Clinton, Fayette, Greene, Losan Madison, Union and Warren counties) is eligible to take the examination without expenses except car fare to and from Yellow Springs and lodging in Yellow Springs in case he must arrive there the day before to be there by 9 a.m. the day of the examination.

The age requirement for the examinations given by the institution is that the candidate must, at the time of his examination for admission, be not under seventeen nor over twenty-two years. A recent act of Congress provides that "during the calendar years 1919, 1920, any appointed to the Military Academy who has served honorably and faithfully not less than one year in the armed forces of the United States or allied armies in the late war with Germany, and who possesses the other qualifications required by law may be admitted between the ages of 17 and 24 years."

Note—Candidates are eligible for admission from the day they are 17 (or 19 if from the Regular Army or the National Guard) until the day they become 22 years of age, on which latter day they are not eligible, unless they fall under the recent act of Congress just referred to. All candidates for any appointment must conform to the age requirements for admission to this institution.

The subjects for examination are as follows:—Algebra, Geometry and Grammer, for which three hours are allowed, and after an intermission of one hour, Geography, U. S. History and Arithmetic, for which three hours are allowed.

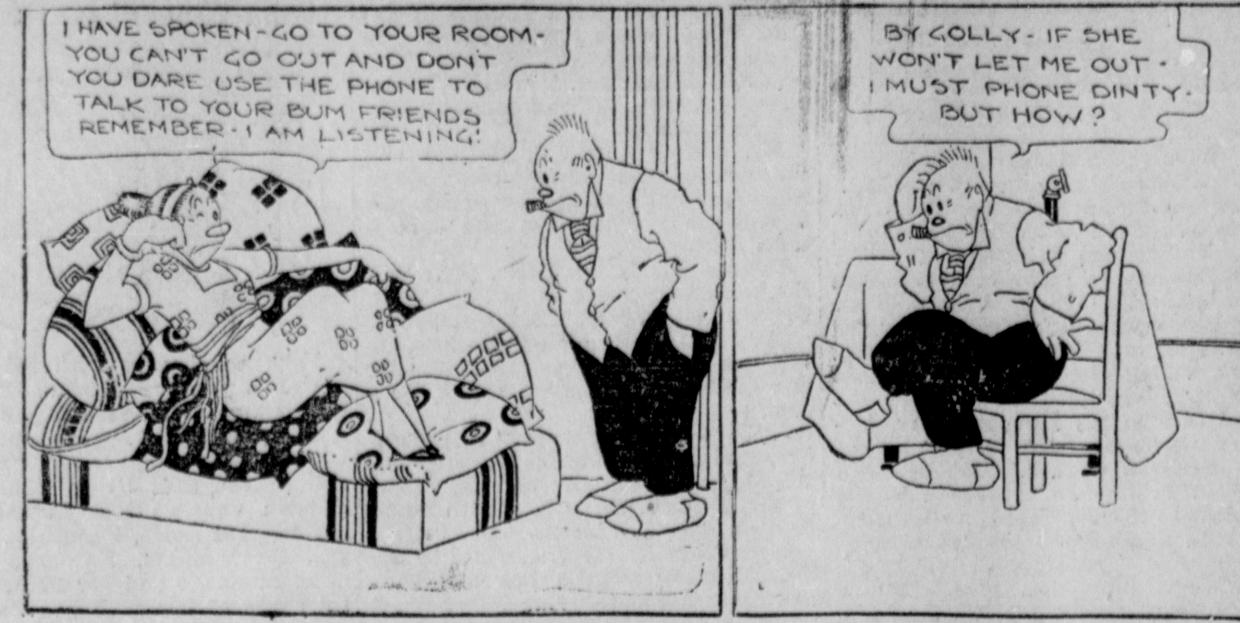

In addition to the principal, there will be appointed three alternates. These blue laws for Sunday sound awful to me.

Though I know that my soul's full of flaws, I really can't be so depressingly good—Let's make them pale lavender laws.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Mr. John A. Nisbet, our popular ex-county treasurer, has accepted a position in the Xenia National Bank. Mr. Nisbet has fine qualifications for the banking business and will make a valuable acquisition to the Xenia National.

Mr. George Little, who was admitted to the bar several years ago but who never actively engaged in the practice of law, has decided to devote his time and attention to that profession hereafter and will be associated with the firm bearing the name of Little and Spencer.

The Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad, the name which is a familiar one on the cars of that line will soon disappear entirely from view, the order being issued that it is to be replaced by the name "Pennsylvania Lines." But whatever orders are to names it is safe to say that the familiar nickname of the "Pan Handle" will cling to the road as before.

The Miami Telephone Company is preparing to build a number of lines connecting the farming communities throughout the county and before long there will be a net work of these lines reaching farmers in all directions. Arrangements are being made for putting in exchanges at Osborn, Clifton and other points and a franchise was obtained recently at Morrow by Manager Haverstick.

GRANDMOTHER'S HELPS.

When Cooking Fish—The smell of fish often lingers in a pan in which it has been cooked and is very disagreeable. If the pan is filled with water to which two or three tablespoons of vinegar have been added, and is allowed to stand or, better, to boil a minute or two before washing, the odor will quickly disappear.

Fruit Cornstarch Pudding—Two cups of milk, one-half cup cornstarch. Stir to dissolve and then bring slowly to a boil and add one-half cup sugar, one cup of any preferred fruit, cut in bits. Cook for five minutes and then add a pinch of salt and one teaspoon of vanilla. Beat to mix and then rinse custard cups. Turn in the mixture and then chill. Use equal parts of banana and sliced orange.

Beet Salad—Cook three medium beets, skin, cool, scoop out the inside and add one-half cup chopped cabbage and one-quarter cup diced celery, mix with mayonnaise, refill the beet shells. Serve on shredded lettuce.

Indian Pudding—Five cups scalded milk, one-third cup cornmeal, one-half cup molasses, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon ginger.

Ford

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

THE FORD COUPE

THE Ford Coupe is surely the Salesman's car. Thousands of them are bought every year by firms employing traveling salesmen. Many firms buy fifty or one hundred at a time, because they know, from experience, that the Ford Coupe increases the efficiency of the salesmen at a minimum of expense.

Contractors, builders, collectors, solicitors, physicians all find the Ford Coupe the most convenient as well as the most economical among motor cars. Lowest in purchase price, lowest in operating costs, and backed by the Ford Service organization, coupled with the durability of the car itself—these furnish the reasons for the Ford popularity.

Let us send you a copy of "Ford—A Business Utility." It tells what other concerns have learned about the Ford in business service. But, better still, let us have your order today. The demand keeps growing. Orders are filled in the order as received—and our allotment is limited a specified number each month.

The Woman He Married

BY JANE PHELPS

Dick's Resents Nan's Nagging.

... Chapter 54.

When Agnes left us she said she had enjoyed her visit, and complimented me highly upon my housekeeping and cooking.

After she had gone Dick and I compared notes. For the first time in months I was perfectly frank with him about expense—the cost of the dinner and so forth. I figured it was for his sister, so no need for camouflage.

"My word, but I had no idea food cost so much!" he exclaimed when I went over each item.

"You see it isn't easy to live on your salary—how necessary it is to make money!" I returned.

"I see we would either go to jail or the poorhouse if we gave many dinner parties."

"Well, we won't give dinner parties often. But I do want to see we can have company once in a while. Did you make any money today?" It was my nightly query.

"Not a cent!"

"You are sure you tried?"

"Sure!"

"Perhaps you will tomorrow."

"Perhaps." Then: "Mr. Burns was in the office. You've heard me speak of him. He told me of a stock to buy. But I am almost afraid to risk it."

"If he told you I shouldn't think there was any risk, I replied in my ignorance."

"If I could take his tip and it turned out right I might make enough money to buy a lot, or to make a first payment on a small house if we could find one to suit us. Then Junior might have a place to run. I feel sort of guilty keeping that youngster in New York."

"That would be lovely!" I exclaimed. Dick must be encouraged in this mood, although I had not yet decided I wanted to leave New York.

We said nothing more until Junior had been to their usual nightly romp (I always wondered who enjoyed it most, Dick or Junior) before I undressed him.

"I do wish there was some way," I mused as we sat quietly together, I sewing, Dick smoking his pipe. I hated a pipe, but Dick had declared he could not afford to smoke cigars, so I couldn't very well say anything.

"I do too," he returned. There was no need to explain my reference. It's either the hardest thing in the world to make money or the easiest. If I could make money enough to satisfy you I would be very happy, and perhaps you would stop your everlasting nagging, about it. Oh, I beg your pardon, Nan. I didn't mean to speak like that! But girl, dear, you have nagged me unmercifully, you know."

"If I have it been for your own good."

"Perhaps—perhaps not! Time will tell."

"He waited a moment then:

"Forgive me, Nan, for speaking so roughly, but it's true. Almost every day for months you have said something about my making more money; your need of it; your desires. I would give a good deal to make enough at least, so that you wouldn't keep everlasting saying I don't try. It would not be possible for me to do more than work hard and so have my salary increased—gain a better position slowly—as other men do, were it not for that little legacy father left me. But perhaps, with that I can hurry matters a little. If I lose it we won't be any worse off than before we got it."

"Don't even think of losing it! That would be dreadful!" I exclaimed.

"Be a sport, Nan. You'll have to be if I do as you want me to. The risk one takes in speculating is known to everyone. It's a toss-up, with the odds against you, to make a sort of a bull."

"You just must not lose that $5,000. And you must make money with it. You have chances if you would take them. Every single thing those men told you to do has turned out all right. And see how quickly you made $200."

"Come on to bed, Nan. When you get on money discussions there's no stopping you. You should have been a man."

"I know I would have been a success one if I had been."

"Perhaps!"—his usual answer.

To Be Continued.
